

GN Ellipse Premium

- flexibility & long range mobility

When you are on the phone there is no reason why you should be limited to only move within the length of a cord. In other words, you should feel as comfortable as in a normal face-to-face conversation.

GN Netcom introduces the 3rd generation of well-established cordless solutions: The GN Ellipse Premium. With its new enhanced set of features, this new member of the GN Ellipse family meets all of the requirements of today's professional workplace.

Simply install the base unit beside the phone and keep your lightweight remote unit connected to the headset. Now you're ready to have a conversation up to 150 meters from your desk.

Not only can you leave your desk to retrieve information without hanging up, you can even answer calls when you are far away from your desk (with the optional Hook Switch). When IP connectivity is required, the optional GN SeleCT allows you to switch between your PC and telephone.

The enhanced set of features includes the possibility to transfer calls from handset to headset even while being away from your desk; to hear remote ringing without wearing your headset; increase battery stand-by time; and to customize your buzzer ringing tone.

GN Netcom has chosen the 1.8 GHz DECT technology for the GN Ellipse family because it is superior to any other cordless technology, providing enhanced quality of speech, longer range, and increased number of simultaneous users.

The GN Ellipse Premium can be connected to all of the most commonly used telephones and telephone systems. And for even greater flexibility, any GN Netcom headset can be used with the GN Ellipse Premium.
